Bell's Brewery is the official craft beer of Cubs Radio

COMSTOCK, Mich. - Bell's Brewery is the "Official Craft Beer of Cubs Radio" and the Presenting Sponsor for Double Plays on Cubs Radio for the 2019 baseball season.

This new partnership with 670 The Score kicked-off with spring training in beautiful Mesa, Arizona. It perfectly complements what Bell's loves about summer.

"We are not only thrilled to partner with The Score, but to increase our investment in the Chicagoland area. It's important to me and the brewery," Larry Bell, president and founder of Bell's Brewery said.

"This partnership brings two of my great passions together," he added.

Bell has been a Cubs season ticket holder since 1999. In 2014, the Park Forest native fulfilled a childhood dream of attending all 81 home games. Even as a young child, Opening Day was a special event for Bell, he attended opening day festivities annually.

This partnership also comes at a time when people across the country are celebrating another sign of summer, the return of Bell's summer seasonal American Wheat beer, Oberon Ale.

Oberon (5.8% ABV) officially returned on March 25 with special events and tapings throughout the Chicagoland area and across the country. Oberon and baseball are a summer tradition.

Bell's Oberon is available on draft, cans and bottles throughout Wrigleyville and the greater Chicagoland area. Limited mini-kegs will ship in May.

Listen to every regular season and playoff game on Cubs Radio, 670 The Score, The Official Radio Home of The Chicago Cubs.
